Profile

Ben is passionate about putting the client at the centre of the case management process. He is highly approachable and able to adapt to meet the needs of the individual, ensuring that a positive therapeutic relationship is built from the outset.

Initially working as a physiotherapist in the NHS and private sectors, Ben then moved into the medico legal industry, where he has worked for over 10 years as a case manager, in a supervisory capacity and more recently for a legal firm. He has an excellent grasp on the case manager's role within the medico legal process and is confident in communicating with insurers, defendant, and claimant solicitors.

Ben specialises in working with clients who have sustained an acquired brain injury, complex orthopaedic trauma (including chronic pain) and amputations. He uses an evidence-based approach to underpin his assessment and review processes, ensuring that individualised rehabilitation plans are developed that are meaningful to the client. He provides regular updates to key stakeholders (e.g. instructing parties) to ensure they are aware of how the client is progressing through their rehabilitation.

Testimonial

"Ben is a confident and highly skilled professional, always able to offer sound clinical advice and has an in-depth understanding of the litigation arena. Ben is an excellent communicator and can discuss the details of complex cases with legal and medical professionals and translate this into jargon free information for the families he supports. He always puts his clients at the centre of everything he does and is passionate about advocating for those that do not have a voice. I would highly recommend Ben; he would be the first person I call if I needed someone to support any of my family." - Senior Case Manager
