Profile

Andrew has a special interest and expertise in providing case management support to clients who live abroad having most recently completed a complex INA and rehabilitation plan for a client in Eastern Europe. He is an excellent communicator and team player and highly experienced in working alongside social care colleagues in-regards-to safeguarding issues and best interest decision making.

He is a physiotherapist based in London with over 18 years' experience in a variety of clinical settings. He works with adults (and has also worked with children) who have sustained catastrophic injuries including brain injury, spinal cord injury, and complex orthopaedic/polytrauma. He is skilled in meeting the complex and long-term medical conditions such as respiratory needs.

Andrew has experience in implementing a diverse range of treatment programmes including hydrotherapy, complex postural assessments, rebound therapy, managing symptoms of complex spasticity, and the application and use of orthotics and comprehensive manual handling and risk assessments.

He is familiar with the Court of Protection and statutory commissioning system. He values the importance of providing clinical evidence to obtain funding to support care resources including the use of specialised equipment essential for the overall wellbeing of the client keeping rehabilitation client-centred, goal based, and outcome measured.

Testimonial

"I found Andrew to be diligent, caring, compassionate and totally committed to the clients he saw. As a colleague he was supportive and accommodating and willing to step in and help when we had an issue with staffing in the nursing Team. He was flexible and helpful to other colleagues. He has extensive knowledge of brain injury clients." Nursing Manager
