Profile

Lauren is a registered social worker and neurodevelopmental specialist with extensive experience in case management, especially with children and young people with complex needs.

Lauren specialises in supporting those with neurodevelopmental conditions, learning disabilities, acquired brain injuries, and cerebral palsy. Her background spans social care, education, and clinical settings, giving her a deep understanding of how to navigate multidisciplinary systems and secure the right support at the right time.

Lauren works closely with families, professionals, and services to coordinate care plans, advocate effectively, and ensure that each client's needs are understood in context. She is particularly skilled at managing complex presentations that require joined-up thinking, cultural sensitivity, and long-term oversight.

Testimonial

"Lauren combines deep clinical expertise with genuine compassion, building trust with young people, families, and professionals alike. She approaches each case with clarity, empathy, and a solutions-focused mindset, ensuring the best possible outcomes for those she supports" –
